NEW GAGE WEATHER WATCH BREATHABLE RAINWEAR FOR JUNIORS

New Jackets and Pants Provide Waterproof Protection From the Elements, Reflective Visibility for Kids and Youth Ages 2-16

The same lightweight, breathable rainwear worn by Bering Sea crabbers braving mountainous waves, freezing spray and pitching decks is now available for boys and girls ages 2 to 16 — even if all they need to brave are recess rain showers or the inevitable mud puddles encountered walking home from school.

Grundéns USA has added new Weather Watch Jackets and Pants for youngsters to its popular Gage Technical Gear line, combining fully waterproof protection from the elements with superior breathability to prevent active kids from overheating. This special

Hi-Vis Yellow Weather Watch rainwear is fashioned from 300-denier Polyester, with an Oxford weave for optimum comfort and durability and fully taped seams to prevent water intrusion in even the strongest storms.

This material keeps rain, mist, splashes and spray out while allowing body moisture to escape. In addition, Gage Weather Watch rainwear is very lightweight and packable, meaning youngsters can easily take it along wherever they go — in the city or in the Great Outdoors.

In addition to its naturally bright, Hi-Vis yellow coloring, Gage Weather Watch Jackets and Pants for youngsters feature reflective accents for enhanced visibility. Whether kids are on the water, hiking outdoors, or riding or walking to school, Weather Watch will help them be seen by others in low light and bad weather.
